Know-Nothing Schemes -- Humphrey Marshall, etc.

The great aim of the Know-Nothing party, as is perfectly evident to every one who will look apartially upon the present contest, is to throw the election of President into the House. Of this fact we wish to convince every man who is not already satisfied upon the point, and then to show the imminent dauger resting upon the occurrence of such a disaster, as well as the evident disposition, evinced at present on the part the street? Even so. The fence was old, rotof the Know Nothing leaders, to betray the parinto the House, is readily discovered by several simple tests. Thus, if they expected an election by the people certainly they would expect to carry more than one State; and if they believed found men willing to act upon it. Let, there- a last judgment. fore, any Democrat propose to bet that Fillmore will not carry any two States, and the imposeiif the party were contending for a popular elec- our visit. tion there would be a struggle in the only place to effect such a result, that is before the people of the whole country; but is there such a contest' If so, let the Know-Nothing party answer as to their ticket in Indiana, and the numerous left to fight single handed, not only the traitorons Abulitionists, but too often against these in-Know-Nothing force. There would seem, and from the facts daily developing themselves in the speeches of the Know-Nothing leaders of this defacement. State, there is little room left to doubt, that of the two parties opposing the Democracy, by the States in which it appears that Fremont place, and when Fillmore has the ascendancy | cluded thus: the friends of Fremont by common consent the common enemy, and they are willing to can: nise upon the slight differences which divide them to effect his defeat. Between the doctrines of Fremont and of Buchanan Humphrey Marshall declares that he would not give with a depth of blaschemy which his own blasphemous tongue only can excel, "that God Almighty never did make the day on which he would vote for Buchanan's crooked neck," leaving the inference as plain as day light, that he would vote for Fremont in preference. This arch-traitor to the South, always suspected but now convicted, is put upon the stump in Kentucky along with other gentlemen of a similar mode of thought, in order to familiarize the public mind with such outrageous sentiments, while John Minor Botts is placed upon the stump in Virginia for a similar purpose. Compare the avowals of these gentleman and see, honest men of Kentucky, if they do not speak a language now more horrible even than their words import from the fact of their being almost simultane ously spoken. Does not this coincidence argue a design. While the distinguished ex-commisioner to China is giving utterance to such sentiments as the above cited, and is backed by the wire-pullers of the party here, the renegade Virgipian is declaring that "we cannot be worsted

Since the ascertion of Prentice that all men were entitled to liberty, no matter of what color, there have never been sentiments uttered, so full of the spirit of Abolitionism and thorough hostility some hope of several Southern States exclusive 'em new." of Kentucky. To effect this the party have made a show of great Southern feeling. But cause in New York has sustained an injury by this extra assumption of Southern fidelity, and the South as a whole being hopoless they have determined to take more Northern grounds, they were strong enough to make the issue here himself, at last rested well. as it would also secure them the Fremont vote. While, therefore, they estimate that Kentncky and Delaware will not be endangered, they calculate upon a reversion in their favor in New that it is a bid for Fremont fusion in a House election. This may be speculation, but it is sustained by facts which warrant the assumption. It is evident that even one State may suffice to throw the election into the House. We have reiterated too often the dangers of an Abolition election, to require a lengthy repetition. A Union of the Fremont and Fillmore men in the House would elect one of them over Buchanan on the first ballot. This needs no argument to sustain it. It is self-evident. What, then, is to prevent the Fillmore men from voting for Fremont? Is it the expressed will of the States Ah, but that has been too often violated to be relied upon. Is it the moral or political integrity of the men themselves? It is, and this is the ouly safe-gnard we have. We thought of old Mortality; what a world of trouble that venerable post mortem philanthropist would have if he were here to undertake to set to rights this ruin-possessed village of the crisis: dead. Perhaps less than fifty years old, it looked Northern States in which the Democracy are even superanuated in decay. The desire of being thought honest, ought to be there is a full nuderstanding between the leaders a powerful incentive to the practice of that virtue. As we walked from stone to stone in this old, which the full strength of the two combined dilapidated grave yard, we could not but remark their feet. I am proud that my own poor sense shall be thrown against the nominees of the how frequently that line of Pope's-"an honest Democratic convention; thus for instance, in man is the noblest work of man,"-occurred. EST MAN.

Whether the quotation had the effect of preserving the stone, a sort of amulet, that wormed the tose of a copper for choice, and further says off the genius of decay, we know not; but we are inclined to think that much the larger uumber of stones on which the inscription was still legible, a reference to the dead man's honesty in some shape or other occurred. The old maxim of law, that all men should be esteemed honest until the contrary was proved, seemed totally disregarded by sorrowing relatives and anxious friends; for no one, we trust, would be so nugenerous as to suspect that the words of Holy Writ, "The wicked fleeth when no man pursues," would be at all applicable to them, because of their desire to inform posterity that the spot of earth beneath the slab that conveyed to them the information, concealed what remained of the earthly home of an honest and upright spirit. Isn't it strange : preachers talk of religion-and all very true; but go to a graveyard and the tombstones will discourse to you of honesty, morality, philanthropy, charity; the social duties and virtues that belong to this life, and many other things. Why is this? Is it because dead men do not write epitaphs, and the living come within the preacher's words: vanity of vanity; all is vanity. It is a question for "di by any change from Democracy" and that any vines, and with them we leave it.

GREAT ATTRACTION!

LADIES RICH DRESS HATS! DEGS leave to inform the ladies of Louisville, and its vicinity, that I have purchased my goods from the direct importers in New York and Europe. Which enables me to compete with my other smaller, first class house in my line, in the city. My goods are selected with the greatest care, and are of the latest fall styles. And I softest a share of patronage, and a call from the lades. I shall be receiving from time, by Expresse, all the latest airlies of goods as they are imported direct. My goods will be sold at the lowest prices, (and at one prices only.)

DB. BEALE'S ARCTIC REGIONS AT MOZART HALL. Among the recent and perhaps the most interesting discoveries in art and sciences, that of conveying to canvas the startling events of battle scenes, and illustrating some striking prominent features of nature, is among the most astonishing. Distant scenes, likeuese of individuals, miniature views of battle fields, the wild and ice-bound regions of the frigid zone, with their snow-capped pyramids of ice, impress us with a reverence for Dety, while it displays His omnipotent and omnipreseent powers in ''mind,'' here on earth, to awaken worlds within a world! The poet, the sculptor, the musician and painter, are the attributes of "mind," in the great work of nearing man towards God. The success of the Arctic Panorama amply attests its merits. The house continues nightly crowded.

The infamous conduct of the black republican abolitionists at Concord has produced an excitement of indignation throughout New Hampshire that will result in one of the proud est triumphs, in the reception of the President ever known to the democrats of the Granile Hills. The sterling people of the country towns are aroused at the insult offered their distinguished fellow-citizen, and are preparing to reuder him a greeting that will prove the enthusiasm, patriotism, and State pride of their honest hearts. The arrangements for the President's reception are on a scale worthy of the occasion, and everything indicates a most gratifying re-

Doctor James Williams:—For several years past, I have been table to attacks of Utspepsia: for never tave theen nore distressingly afflicted with its symptoms, then within the hast few wicks. Indigestion, nervous irritability, deepondency, a sense of weight in the stomach, and severe pains in the left side, rendering ine, for the time being, truly wretched. Fultuately, I was recommended by a friend to try your Elaxir. I did so, and in less than two weeks, indigestion ceased; pain and nervous depression left me, and appetite, with mental and bodily health, were fully restored. To me the cure seemed shoust in raculous, and myobject in writing to you is—a hope that other persons suffering the missenes of Utspepsia will avail themselves of your efficient remedy.
